

STONED LOVE

HELENA RABASA

who: the song that I relate to the war it's from an album of an American female singing group called "supremes", founded in 1959.

when: the single was made in 1970 (15th October).

why: from my opinion, this song is related to the war because the lyrics were a plea for the people of the world to end conflict and animosity between each other, specifically the Vietnam War.

examples: some parts of it that I relate to the war are:

-a love for each other will bring fighting to an end, forgiving one another, time after time doubt creeps in, but like the sunlight up the sky with a message from above.

-rise up and take your stand, and to the man, on whose shoulder, the world must depend.

-if the war between our nations passed, will the love between our brothers and sisters last? on and on and on and on and...stoned love.

The song that I have chosen is Stoned Love by the musicgroup, The Supremes. It was released in 1970.

The song called for an end to conflict, specifically the Vietnam War, and for the world to unite in peace instead. The title doesn't refer to drugs, as it talks about the union between people. In the lyrics there are a few phrases that talk about the war such as: "A love for each other will bring fighting to an end/ Forgiving one another, time after time, doubt creeps in/ But like the sun lights up the sky with a message from above/ Oh yeah, I find no other greater symbol of this love."

I especially liked this song for the message it gives since it tries to make you think that, with love, this war would come to an end and at the same time its rhythm and melody are very good.
